

Geographers have many transferrable skills that make them highly employable including problem solving, decision making and communication.

There 755 university courses related to geography.

13

A-LEVEL EXAMS

Health, Human Rights and Intervention + the Water Cycle and Water Insecurity

Superpowers + the Carbon Cycle and Energy Security

Paper 1 – physical geography
Paper 2 – human geography
Paper 3 – synoptic paper

NEA handed in Christmas of Y13. 20% of final grade.

NEA launched May half term of Y12

END OF YEAR 12 EXAMS

12

Globalisation + Glaciated Landscapes and Change

Regenerating Places + Tectonic Processes and Hazards

Paper 1 – Investigating Geographical Issues
Paper 2 – Decision Making Geography
Paper 3 – Applied Fieldwork

Lake District fieldwork on NEA preparation.

GCSE EXAMS

Coastal Processes and Management

Development

APPLIED FIELDWORK DAY 2

Climate change

Weather and climate

Desertification

Ecosystems under threat

Ecosystem processes

11

APPLIED FIELDWORK DAY 1

Rural and urban processes and change

END OF YEAR 10 EXAMS

Uncovering the role of superpowers on cultural and economic geographies.

10

Global Cities

Global Players

Uncertain Futures

Our Restless Planet

9

Festivals

8

Our Extreme Planet

Our Populated Planet

Coasts

The Problem with Plastic

Africa and the Middle East

Local area fieldwork on the changing uses of Wirksworth's market-place and place identity.

7

Discovering Wirksworth

Geography in the 21st Century

7

Our Fragile Planet

Our Amazing Planet

An introductory unit on why the study of Geography is so relevant and important in the 21st Century.

Primary School

Locational knowledge of global and UK environments and locations. Understanding of key aspects of human and physical geography. Proficiency in using and interpreting geographical information, including experience of fieldwork.

